How Green Was Our Valley?

I heard three splendid young girls at Rotary Wednesday give an accounting of the organization and functions of the Youth Council in Cameron. Our young people are carrying on under great handicap but are hopeful.

They have no place to meet. They have tried but to no avail, to find a place where they can carry on their activities which are both social and cultural. The appeal though not voiced as such, was tremendous.

Thinking men are now asking the question "How Green was our Valley?"

In our long history we have somehow overlooked many things that make for a better world right here in Cameron. Except for meager funds realized from their own activities and $200 given from the good Community Chest these young people have no active community support. We cannot escape the tragic realization, no matter how much we tolerate short sighted administration of public funds, that of such activities as these girls represent, come the finer things that make a community well rounded to hold them as citizens in maturer years. They somehow go to other places in the main for life there holds for them the things we have here failed to provide.

In 1945 the Cameron planning Board in its report visualized housing for youth organizations and other allied activities.

That report was shunted aside for the favored policy of continuing things as they are and to-day we are again witnessing another fight for places on the Council and so far as we now know no candidate has pledged anything therefore will have nothing to fulfill.

It seems that no matter who is elected we will go on as usual, no plan, no idea, no resolves to better things or to get something enduring for the hundreds of thousands of tax dollars that have been poured out in waste and extravagances.

This is a challenge. How many candidates now running will have the heart interest and the intelligent conception of the better things to come forward with a pledge to the people? We are waiting.

With logical acknowledgement of all things in proper place, one cannot avoid the observation that in Cameron there are 27 places where whiskey, wine and beer can be purchased under the law, but no place where you can get a book to read and no place where the precious heritage of our boys and girls can develop and grow into more useful citizenship.

The following letter is published not because it will do any good but to hold back the night and keep the dawn as long as we can. Doing things as usual, keeping it like it is, electing people to office who have no ideas, no plans, no interest beyond an easy living at public expense, may be one answer to these conditions, Mr. Henderson. There are many other answers but what is one complaint anymore than another along Tobacco Row:

Fort Worth, Texas
December 21, 1947

Dear Mr. Editor:

I would like to have you call attention to the bleak, unsanitary and shabby shanties that your county poor are housed in.

Have you or any of the Commissioners been there and seen what the very old and poor have to live in? I have.

Out door toilets, wood sotves, very old buildings, drafty, no paper on the walls, no paint inside or out, just box houses. It is a disgrace to a county as large as Milam County to have such a place for the unfortunate people to live in. I am ashamed I came from such a county. I have lots of relatives however still living in that county.

Now Mr. and Mrs. Allen the present heads of the county home have cleaned up and about gotten rid of the bed bugs. They also do all in their power to make these people comfortable but they cannot take their wages and put in the necessary

New Hearing on SP Train

RAIL COMMISSION SETS FEB. 12 DATE

The Texas Railroad Commission has reopened the case originating last fall when the Southern Pacific asked to discontinue the passenger train service between Waco and Yoakum through Cameron and Rockdale.

A hearing was held in Rockdale where some ten thousand interested people from the towns affected gave the Railroad Commission their views and to protect the application to discontinue the service.

The Railroad Commission has had the matter under advisement since and gave no reason for reopening the case. Letters to Chambers of Commerce came as a surprise for it was expected that the Commission would soon act on the case.

The petition to discontinue service was filed on June 23, 1946 stating that the railroad had been operating two passenger and baggage and mail trains at a loss and wished to discontinue them.

It was expected that many from Cameron and this area will attend the meeting in Austin on February 12.

Search For Missing Flyer

RURAL AREAS ARE ASKED TO SEARCH FOR PILOT

Search for a missing pilot and plane has been extended to the Cameron area.

Colonel Armin F. Herold, U. S. Army Air Corps, in a letter to the Daily Herald makes a plea for the cooperation of all pilots flying out of the Municipal Airport and especially does he appeal to farmers and people living in the wooded areas of the county.

A Beech-craft plane piloted by E. E. Holstein has been missing since December 10. Holstein was on a flight from Houston to Waco and is unreported.

Army search units have covered the area between Houston and Waco and the territory to the east and west but without success.

Search units will again operate over the wooded areas but in this search the help of the people on the ground will be invaluable.

CHAMBER IS PLANNING NEW 1948 HOSPITALITY

New hospitalities for 1948 were being planned here by the Chamber of Commerce to include schools in this area, it was announced late Monday by E. C. Cole, director.

Mr. Cole said the plan had been outlined and approved by the Directors of the Chamber of Commerce and invitations are to be sent to a large number of schools in this area.

Each year classes in the schools, principally Home Economics classes spend a day picnicing and for a number of years the Rosebud Class has enjoyed the Wilson-Ledbetter Park.

The plan this year is to extend these hospitalities and schools will be asked to designate the days on which they wish to bring these pupils. The Chamber of Commerce will arrange a tour of the city and merchants and business men are being given opportunity to give presents or souvenirs to the pupils and teachers.

Mr. Cole pointed out that these gifts will be purely voluntary but the opportunity to advertise the city and its business enterprises will be noteworthy.

The plan is to have the students come by bus and they will be met by buses here and guides will take them for a tour of the places of interest here. Free Ice water will be furnished.

Souvenirs, gifts and other hospitalities would do much to make the day memorable for the children who come. Additional announcements will be made from time to time. Business men should contact the Chamber of Commerce at once if they wish to share in the courtesies and the advertising value of these tours.

Angust Kunz Makes Statement on Race For Alderman Here

In offering as a candidate for reelection for the office of city alderman, I feel that it is fitting that I should make a statement concerning my small part in the present administration.

Primarily, this has been a progressive administration during which time many changes were made in our national economy, viz, O. P. A. went out, prices went up including many vital items necessary in the maintenance of streets and sanitation, also wages soared elsewhere reflecting upward trends in city expenditures.

During this administration all of these vital changes were surpassed, city business went on as usual, much actual work was accomplished at an accellorated pace and your city taxes were not raised.

Many progressive issues were projected and as your alderman I voted

SHERIFF BLACK ARRESTS WOMAN IN CORSICANA

A linament swindle in which an aged Thorndale man is alleged to have paid a woman $200 for a bottle that would cure him, has been cleared up by Sheriff Carl C. Black who arrested Mrs. Wilma Baker in Corsicana.

Mrs. Baker is in the Milam county Jail, charged with swindling. Sheriff Carl C. Black said he had only recently received the complaint and that he had made pretty good time making the arrest.

The facts as related by the Sheriff are that Mrs. Baker and her husband, posing as junk dealers, travel about over the country and last fall stopped in Thorndale.

John E. Lehman, invalid who has lost one leg, is alleged to have paid Mrs. Baker $200 for a bottle of linament which she is accused of representing as all that would be necessary to cure him. Mrs. Baker, it was said had helped to care for Mr. Lehman and told his son she could cure his father if she could get some money. Mrs. Baker it is alleged took the money and delivered a bottle of linament. She claims she had never sold the medicine before or since.

According to the story Mrs. Baker told Mr. Lehman that a "certain kind" of linament would cure him and it was believed that based upon this representation the aged man paid over the $200. The offense occured in November of 1947. Mrs. Lehman and her husband were also staying in Cameron at intervals.

AREAS IN EAST TEXAS ARE SNOWBOUND TODAY

Almost one inch of rain had fallen in Cameron up to Tuesday morning it was reported by L. W. Smith, government weather observer in Cameron.

Mr. Smith said that temperature rose considerably and the low here Tuesday morning was 32 degrees.

The forecast for the next 48 hours is cloudy and cold but with rising temperatures.

Hundreds of square miles of East Texas were practically snowbound Monday night as winter's worst onslaught dumped the heaviest snowfall in 20 years on the normally snow-free area.

The fall neared the one-foot mark at Marshall, where schools were dismissed for two days. It was feared rural school buses would find it difficult to push through drifts.

Starting before dawn, the storm continued unabated throughout the day. At noon the fall measured seven inches at Marshall, six inches at Longview and Kilgore and four inches at Tyler, the rose capital.

Highway traffic in the area continued, but at a snail's pace. City Manager E. E. Justice of Marshall urged residents to "stay at home." The fall at Marshall was the heaviest since 1929, when 12 inches fell.

In the Dallas-Fort Worth areas two inches fell during the early hours before dawn, and hundreds of workers reported late for wark.

Other places reporting snow included Henderson, Corsicana, Gainsville, Amarillo, Lubbock, Big Spring, Midland, Texarkana and Wink.

In sections of north, central and south Texas, ice storms developed.

An ice-coated highway was blamed in the death of E. W. Hill, 41, of San Antonio. He died in an accident at the San Saba river bridge, 10 miles south of Brady.

Palestine was coated with ice. A heavy snow fell there during the day after an all-night sleet storm.

Similar conditions were reported in the Denison-Sherman areas.

Some livestock suffering was reported in the Malokoff section of east Texas.

Bad weather was general over most of Texas. Rain and fog were reported over south Texas. Only in the El Paso section was there a break in the clouds.

E. N. Elmore of Austin visited his daughter, Mrs. Ray Miller of Milano the past week end. He also visited in Cameron.

Mrs. S. T. Nichols is spending a few days in Cameron with her daughter, Mrs. W. R. Newton, Jr., Mrs. Nichols lives at Clarendon.

Rat Proofing Work Gets Under Way

Preliminary surveys were under way here Tuesday for the enforcement of the rat proofing ordinance recently enacted by the City Council.

Dan Gunn, well known Cameron citizen and business man, has been retained by the city to work with J. S. Burwell of the State Health Department who is here to assist in the work.

Inspection of all buildings is now being made. Contracts are to be made between owners and tenants, depending on where the responsibility rests for complying with the law.

After a building is inspected the cost of the proofing will be established and then final details are arranged .

It was pointed out that the city will rat proof a building on payment of the costs by a tenant but does not hold him responsible. In some cases tenants may wish to rat proof at a small cost even though the owner of the building refuses.

The purpose of the law will be carried out on a co-operative basis as nearly as possible. Enforcement will be avoided wherever possible.

Local Masons Confer Master's Degree In Full Dress Jan. 9th.

The degree team went to Hearne on January 12 and confered the Masters Degree on a member there and 85 were present to witness the work.

The degree team will visit other lodges in this area to confer the degree.

Mrs. Gertrude Pate returned to her home in Phoenix, Arizona last week after spending the fall months here with many of her relatives and friends. She has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Fisher and other relatives in Cameron, Austin, Galveston and San Antonio.

VERNON TREADWELL IS KILLED IN CAR WRECK

Vernon Treadwell, 40, postmaster at Lexington, was killed around 10 a. m. Tuesday morning on Highway 77 near Minerva.

Mr. Treadwell and two companions whose names were not available were on their way to Cameron when the pick up truck in which they were traveling was overturned.

Mr. Treadwell was killed in the wreck. His body is at the Phillips & Lucky Funeral home in Rockdale.

Sheriff Carl C. Black went to the scene of the wreck shortly after it occured.

Wet pavement was thought to have been responsible for the wreck as the pickup went out of control.

The two men with Mr. Treadwell were not badly injured.

Joe Ann Anderson who has been a patient in St. Edwards Hospital here has returned to her home and is doing nicely.

FACTS about YOUNGBLOOD'S Fresh Frosted Fryers

For freshness, supreme flavor, firm textured meat, and tenderness, you will find Youngblood's Fresh Frosted Fryers unexcelled.

Youngblood's Fryers are hatched from eggs from selected flocks, grown under the most rigid healthful and sanitary conditions, and dressed in one of the nation's most modern and sanitary plants.

You will find Youngblood's Fresh Frosted Fryers economical, too. They are completely dressed—not a particle of waste meat, no trimming before cooking. You get honest weight—weight stamped on the package when it is wrapped. That gives you more meat per pound in Youngblood's than in any other chicken you can buy.

Youngblood's Fresh Frosted Fryers come Whole Wrapped, Cut-up in Boxes or Individual Boxes of Breasts
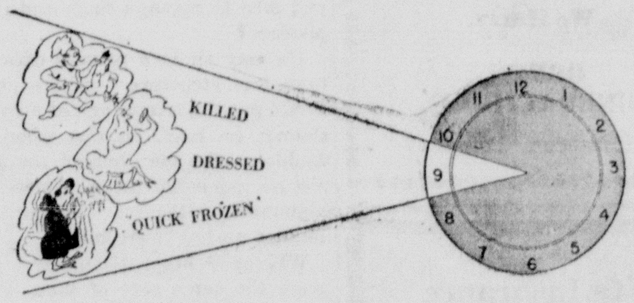
Thighs
Drum Sticks
Pulley Bones
Backs
Wings
Necks
Livers
Gizzards

ONE HOUR MAKES THE DIFFERENCE



Within one hour after a Youngblood chicken is killed, it is thoroughly dressed, washed, quick chilled in chipped ice, wrapped and packaged, and placed in the quick freeze vault. This fast-timed process captures the farm freshness, the flavor, and actually improves the tenderness and meat texture. It is a guarantee that the fryer is "Fresher than Fresh." Every fryer sold under the Youngblood label is unconditionally guaranteed to have all the qualities found in a chicken "killed one hour ago!"

things that should be there.

Will you please print everything I have written in this letter and if you need proof of the truth, I suggest you go see for yourself.

Those people are not in that place because they want to be, its because they have no other place to go.

Lets see Cameron and the people of Milam county get busy and look into this place and do something about it. I hope Milam county makes me proud of being from there.

Yours truly,
Detective and Mrs. Wiley Henderson

I like the way Eric Johnston says it. He is talking about the motion picture theatre and the men who own and operate them.

Here is what he says in a newspaper man's magazine:

This neighbor of ours is a man of parts. He's a shrewd, sound business man, but he matches his business acumen with a definite flair for the dramatic. He's enterprising and resourceful.

He pays rent and taxes and mows the lawn and goes to Parent-Teachers Association meetings and lives about like the rest of us do, but he's the pilot of a magic carpet.

He's the motion picture theatre operator in Anywhere, U. S. A., certainly one of the most important men in the motion picture industry.

Hollywood works for him. Hollywood, many say, is the world capital of entertainment, but what's a capital without a country? Hollywood, in a stricter sense, is the manufacturing center of the motion picture industry, but what's a manufacturing center without its retail outlets—and men to manage them and sell the product?

He may sit in a private office in a towering structure whose interior would put the trimmings of a castle to shame; he may, on the other hand, double as the man behind the motion picture porjector in a remote rural community theatre which itself doubles as the town hall.

Whatever his setting, he's pretty much the same sort of man. The industry looks up to its exhibitors. They stack up as Grade A citizens. Is there a civic project on foot requiring solicitation and an active committee chairman? Ask the theater operator. Somehow he'll squeeze out the time to do the job. Maybe they're collecting tinfoil to be sold for relief purposes? And so here is a special Saturday morning show, free to any youngster who'll bring along a wad of foil.

Thousands of exhibitors serve on city councils and commissions; they sit in state legislatures and in Congress; they are on school boards; they are active in Chambers of Commerce and service clubs—in churches—in civic enterprises that benefit the city, the town or the community.

They're good for the towns they live in, just as the theatres themselves are good for the towns. On the average, about 65 per cent of the boxoffice receipts of any theater stays right in the community from which it is drawn. It goes for salaries, for wages, for rent, for light and heat, for taxes, for advertising in the local newspapers.

In the competition between towns for business from the same trading area, it's the town with the best theaters which has the edge. If shopping facilities are otherwise equal, it is only natural the best theater town will draw people who can combine their shopping with going to a show.

The motion picture, which was born within the lifetime of many of us—half a century ago—has become one of the biggest of all industries, but its bigness lies in its decentralization, in the vast territory it covers—in the millions of lives it touches every day, and in the tremendous diffusement of its income among so many thousands of persons and communities.

Yes, it's a glamorous art. It's an art which can plant the past before the eyes of today; an art which can bring the greatest artists to the most secluded section; an art which can for a few brief hours lift life out of the humdrum and give wings to imagination and to the soul. It's all that, but i's a great community business, a native son with a kindship to every town and every city where there hangs a silver screen.

Friends of Mrs. J. H. Collins will be glad to know she is rapidly improving from an operation she underwent at the St. Edwards Hospital, January 10. She was returned to her home Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. J. B. Oldham and daughter Nancy Fae of Rockdale were visitors in the home of Mrs. Henry Dreyer Monday.

CITIZENS BANK NAMES OFFICERS FOR 1948

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of The Citizens National Bank of Cameron, the following directors were re-elected:

Oxsheer Smith, W. O. Newton, Niley Smith, Frank Monroe, Rush A. Thomas, Hilliard S. Thomas.

Officers elected: Oxsheer Smith, President; W. O. Newton, Active Vice-President; Alvin Nolte, Assistant Vice President; Hilliard S. Thomas, Assistant Vice-President; Ladis Marak, Cashier; John H. Davis, Assistant Cashier.

It will be noted that Hilliard S. Thomas and Alvin Nolte, formerly Assistant Cashiers, by reason of additional duties assigned and new responsibilities assumed, were elected Vice-Presidents.

To compensate for the increased cost of living, salaries of all officers and employees, except the President, who requested that his salary not be changed, were increased 10 to 20 per cent. This is the third increase during the last five years, and in line with the policy that its officers and employees should always be paid adequate wages commensurate with the purchasing power of the dollar.

In keeping with its forty-seven year record the regular 1947 dividends had been previously paid to its stockholders. No addition was made in the bank's $300,000.00 capital structure, consisting of $100,000.00 capital and $200,000.00 surplus.

The history of banking has proven that the funds furnished by the stockholders as capital and surplus should bear a direct ratio to the deposit liability of the bank in order to provide safety and at the same time have a loan limit large enough to take care of the borrowing needs of its customers. The President stated that the bank's capital of $100,000.00 and surplus of $200,000.00, making a total of permanent capital structure of $300,000.00, was, in his opinion adequate for the bank's needs for any foreseeable future and suggested that no addition be made at this time. He also stated that under National Banking laws the bank could lend to one person or a business 10 per cent of its capital and surplus, or for this bank a loan of $30,000.00. There have been few instances where the needs and responsibilities of the bank's customers for loans justified more than this amount, and it was then only for the handling of readily salable commodities, such as cotton, cattle, and cotton seed, and provision had been made by law for the handling of additional amounts when adequately secured by margins to protect the bank .

Charles Brown Gives Rosebud $30,000 For Memorial Library

Charles Brown, former President of the First National Bank in Rosebud, has given that city $30,000 for a memorial library, it was learned here to-day.

Mr. Brown is setting up the fund in memory of his wife who died some years ago. A committee of which Mrs. E. E. Green is a member, has been set up to administer the fund which will include a building.

This is the best forward step a community can make, to establish cultural things. The community of Rosebud was very fortunate to have a citizen who could be unselfish enough to give up a small fortune to benefit others.

YOEMEN WIN DOUBLE HEADER IN BELTON

The scrapping Cameron Yoemen won a rough pair of basketball games from the Belton Tigers in Belton last night.

The B team won 21 to 16 with Alton Fuchs looping 11 points to lead the field while Olin Armstrong was second with 6 points. J. D. Matula and Gordon Gibson played stout defensive ball.

In the main game Cameron won 37 to 20. Belton put two men on Michalka but failed to throttle him. While Michalka sank 16 points Billy Hanes and Big Bob Wilkerson were also finding the range for 17 more. T. J. O'Neill and Bob Holloway proved too stingy on defense and limited Belton to a total of 20 points.

The Yoemen have defeated Belton A team three times this year. On Saturday the Yoemen enter the Belton invitation tournament in Belton.

Hatched line indicates site of new natural gas gathering line.
Main transmission line to Joshua Compressor Station in Johnson County

One of the most important activities in 1947 on the Lone Star Gas System was the addition of new natural gas reserves to meet a rapidly growing demand for natural gas. Three major gas fields were tapped by new lines during this first year of a five-year expansion program.

Fish Creek Field gathering line adds enough delivery capacity to Lone Star System to supply natural gas to a city the size of Waco. This line is but one of more than 75 lines from different fields feeding gas from more than 1,500 wells to the Lone Star System.

Coupled with the addition of new reserves is the construction of new compressor stations, new distribution lines for new customers and many other projects. At the completion of this program $40,000,000 will have been invested in new facilities.

This $40,000,000 program is Lone Star's biggest undertaking since the building of the System. It's a program planned to maintain Lone Star as the finest of Natural Gas Services.

Meet Walter Roberge—"buyer" with 25 years' service in purchasing department at Lone Star. He has this to say about Lone Star's expansion program:

"One can measure the growth of Lone Star Natural Gas Service by the amount of pipe we buy. For example, we're planning to buy 360 miles of four-inch and smaller pipe for construction of new town distribution plants alone this year. This is but a small fraction of planned pipe purchases in 1948, which I believe, will be a year of record growth."

How Mr. Parker gets good telephone service

Mr. Parker just got the telephone he and his family have been waiting for. He wanted an individual line because the Parkers do a lot of telephoning. But no individual lines were available because of shortages, so he took a party line instead.

Now Mr. Parker is wondering ..."A party line... hum-m-m... what kind of service...?"

Party-line service is good service. It's simply a service you share with neighbors and they share with you. Of course, you can't call while someone else is using the line, but on the other hand, no one else can call while you're using it, either—so it's "even Stephen"!

Party-line service is best when conversations are kept reasonably short so everyone has a chance to call—or be called. A little thoughtfulness of the other fellow, a little practice of the golden rule do wonders on a party line.

One of these days, when we've provided service for everyone waiting and there's enough equipment, we'll be around with those individual lines Mr. Parker and hundreds of other folks would like to have.

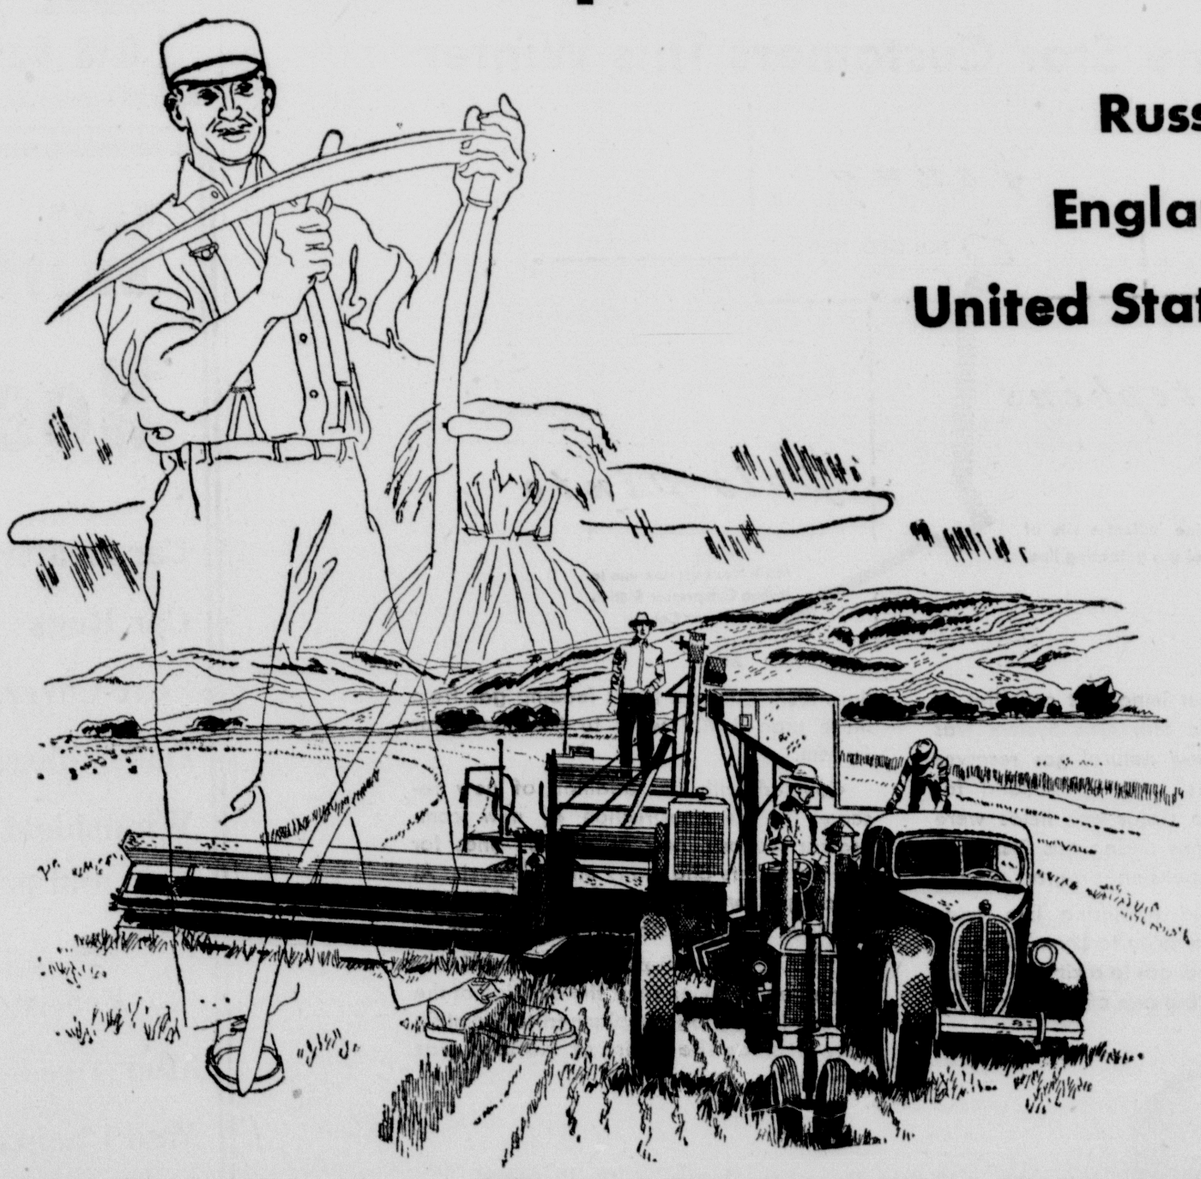
Where Do People Live the Best?

Russia?

England?

United States?



The answer: The U. S.

We are better fed, better clothed, and have more automobiles, refrigerators, telephones, and radios per capita than any other country.

Why? One reason is the efficiency of the American farmer. In countries where farm production is low, the standard of living is low.

The American farmer represents only 2½ per cent of the world's farmers, yet he produces approximately 20 per cent of the world's food supply.

Steel production also is an accurate measure of living standards. America, with only 7 per cent of the world's population, produces 50 per cent of the world's steel.

Negroes May Vote In City Primary

Negroes may vote in the Primary election in Cameron on Tuesday, February 3 under a ruling by the Supreme Court of the United States as of October 1943.

The case arose in El Paso when a negro voter was denied the right to participate. Court action was instituted and the U. S. Supreme court voided the primary laws which discriminate against negroes.

The Supreme court held in effect that since the Legislature enacted laws governing a political primary the state was discriminating against negro voters.

At the time of the decision the Party in Texas considered going back to the convention system but in many counties the court decision was flaunted.

It is interesting to note that the court, in effect held, that the Democratic Party in Texas is the state and since the Legislature enacted laws it became a part of the party. The inference of course is that parties should regulate their own affairs and are not subject to regulations enacted by the state. Eventually a common sense policy will be established and laws will not be instruments either of discrimination or deprive a citizen of his rights.

STAFF OFFICERS HERE ON VISIT TO GUARD

Battery C, 239th Field Artillery Battalion, was commended last Tuesday evening on the progress it had made since its organization by Lt. Col. Joel I. McGregor when he and four staff officers of the Texas National Guard visited the armory during the battery's weekly drill period.

The group of officers was joined by Lt. Col. Burkett, National Guard instructor for this area. They witnessed the battery's training program for the evening which included a gun drill with S-Sgt. Julian Arnold in charge and ammunition instruction by Sgt. Roland Boedeker.

Afterwards, in a talk to members of the battery, Col. McGregor outlined the place of the National Guard in the country's defense plans. He spoke words of encouragement and asked that the units in this area be brought up to strength as soon as possible so they could function better as a team. It was then that he congratulated Battery C's personnel on the fine showing that had been made to date.

HOUSING FOR FAMILY UNITS ARE INCLUDED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19—The army informed Rep. W. R. Poage of Waco today that it planned an expenditure of some $5,000,000 in the Camp Hood area during the next fiscal year.

The army also handed Mr. Poage a broad general statement regarding future possibilities of Camp Hood as a training center, which might indicate much greater expansion. However, the army did not enlarge upon this to give specific details, or say definitely that such expansion would be undertaken.

The building of family quarters at Hood, as announced last week will alone involve the expenditure of some $4,500,000 and it is expected that this sum will be included in an army budget request to be given to congress shortly. Camp Hood was praised for its worth as a training center, especially for combat forces.

The army statement follows:

"Because of its location, size and the advantages from a training standpoint, Camp Hood is considered to be one of the key installations in the development of the streamlined training procedures now being conducted by the army. General Devers, commanding general of the army ground forces, is high in his praise of Camp Hood as a training site. He is particularly impressed with the excellent range facilities available there. These ranges permit the firing of live ammunition under conditions approaching actual combat.

"The varied terrain at Camp Hood makes it an ideal location for the training of our armored forces. The size of the camp allows for full-scale maneuvers by combined infantry and armored forces.

"The geographical location of Camp Hood is such as to make it invaluable from a mobilization standpoint. The present temporary type of construction, coupled with the projected building program, will make it a valuable adjunct to the national defense training program, and in case of emergency it would undoubtedly again be used as a mobilization center.

"The army's fiscal year 1948 construction program for Camp Hood includes provision for the construction of family quarters. The authorization bill has already passed the senate and is now before the house armed services committee. Passage by the house is anticipated very shortly. After the bill has become law, it is hoped that funds estimated at some $4,500,000 will be forthcoming promptly from the congress to undertake the construction which is so badly needed.

"The maintenance of existing buildings will be continued to insure them remaining in suitable condition. Likewise roads and utilities will be maintained and repaired to insure against deterioration. During the next fiscal year it would seem that, except for the new construction, some five million dollars, including the pay of personnel, will be expended in the Camp Hood area."

From Sheepskin to Sheep

There aren't too many college graduates in our town. Good honest thinking, yes... but most folks went from high school into farming.

No harm in that! But I admire veterans like Dick Newcomb... who's 23, but going to college under the G.I. Bill of Rights. Intends to be a sheep farmer—but a better-informed, more scientific farmer, with more know-how!

And veterans like Dick aren't letting anything interfere. What little relaxation they allow themselves is in the form of needed exercise, or books, or conversation and an occasional glass of beer with friends.

Seems as if, just by having their education postponed, they've put a higher value on it... and on things like temperance (that glass of beer, for instance), understanding, and good citizenship. And from where I sit, when Dick gets his sheepskin—he won't have lost much time. He'll be an even better farmer than his Dad. (Exactly what Dad wanted!)

Daniels, who closed his many-sided career as he began it—as a working newspaperman—was active until he suffered a cold Jan. 3. An ardent, lifelong Methodist, he insisted upon attending church services the next day. Two days afterwards his illness was dagnosed as bronchitis which later was complicated by pneumonia. For several days he had lain in a coma.

The funeral will be at 2:30 p. m. Saturday at the Edenton Street Methodist Church in Raleigh, burial will be in Oakwood Cemetery here.

Tom Faver has returned to New York City after sperding a month with his family in Cameron. Returning with him is his nephew, Bill Ned Coston. Billy will buy a new car while in New York and drive back to Beaumont.

DR. NEWTON IS FINALLY APPROVED FOR CREDIT

AUSTIN, Jan. 15—A 60-day commutation on Dr. W. R. Newton's two-year prison sentence for giving blood transfusions was approved today by Gov. Beauford H. Jester.

Newton, serving a two-year penitentiary sentence following conviction on a charge of assault to murder on the late Dr. Roy Hunt of Littlefield, had requested the 60-day credit more than a month ago. Jester at that time delayed action pending a full investigation.

Jester's approval today followed the unanimous recommendation of the board of pardons and parols. The recommendation for the commutation came first from the prison system to the board.

Newton, who is a bookkeeper at the main prison unit at Huntsville, told reporters some time ago he was expecting notification of approval of the 60-day commutation and had been "wondering about the delay." He said then that he had been requested to give a third blood transfusion.

He estimated in early December he had 10 months time to his credit, including credits for the two blood transfusions and good behavior.

(Prison system regulations give 20 days per month reduction from the end of a prisoner's term so long as he maintains good conduct, industriousness and obedience.)

for every one of them. If I am re-elected for another term and any issue comes up which I consider progressive and for the good of the city, I shall do the same thing again. So my good friends if you want a horse and buggy town or a backward administration please don't vote for me.

In offering for re-election as your city alderman I feel it my duty to submit to the electorate some of my ideas on progressive government and if re-elected I shall strive to my utmost for their accomplishment:

1. Favor strict enforcement of the Rodent Control Ordinance First as a health measure and second as an economical project.

2. Favor a city sponsored movement co-ordinating the combined efforts of churches, schools and civic organizations and newspapers to found a Youth Center and a Public Library.

3. Favor abolishment of the office of City Marshal this office to be taken over by a Chief of Police to be appointed by the City Council.

4. Favor the making of an industrial survey of the City of Cameron. Findings to be publicized nationally to attract more pay rolls here.

5. Favor an official tax survey for the City of Cameron which would re-distribute the tax load more equitably and procure much more city revenues resultant in many of the small home owners paying less city taxes and the big boys paying more.

6. Favor the most diligent search for new sources for revenue other than real estate.

7. Favor as much economy in financing the city government as is consistent with practical modern methods of operation.

These are the things for which I stand and if elected I shall strive my utmost for their accomplishment.

JACKSON—

solicitation of friends throughout the county that he make the race. Some time ago Mr. Jackson sold his business interests in Cameron and moved to Maysfield where he purchased lands and has been engaged in the livestock business.

Mr. Jackson, shortly after Pearl Harbor in 1941, although past draft age, volunteered for service in the United States Army and served with distinction until he was honorably discharged many months later. His son, Fred Jackson, Jr., was in the United States Navy and serving at the time his father was in the army, thus the father and son military service was a distinction to which few families could lay claim.

Mr. Jackson said that at the proper time if occasion demands he will issue a formal statement in which he will outline a platform and in the meantime welcome suggestions from voters and property owners.

Mr. Jackson is well known over the county, having been a resident here for a long period of time. He feels that due to the fact that he has lived here so long he understands well the needs of the people and would do everything possible to carry out a program of service in the legislature that would benefit the people he would be serving .

That Milam county stands in need of a more vigorous representation, his friends point out, they believe Mr. Jackson would fit into that kind of pledge to the people.

Mr. Jackson hopes to see and talk with as many voters as possible during the campaign and in making this early announcement appeals to his friends to lend their support, pledging them it will be highly appreciated.
